Media Release No. 18/05

As of December, Telekurs iD users have been able to use the expanded functions of the new version. In addition to a number of optimized features and convenient search options for securities subject to EU taxation on interest income, the highlight of this version is the stock analysis from theScreener, which is integrated into the display.

Telekurs iD – with the newly integrated stock analysis from theScreener – offers considerable added value for the investment advisory and asset management fields.

As an independent provider of stock analysis, theScreener has advanced to become the European market leader in this field. Telekurs customers can use theScreener data to access objective analysis and recommendations on around 5000 globally attractive stocks.

We would especially like to mention that this is a genuine integration and not – as in other products – merely a link to the environment of theScreener. The analysis is integrated directly into the Telekurs iD quote lists in form of brief profiles. Earnings forecasts by a number of analysts and technical trend analyses for price and risk evaluations can be called up easily with a mouse click. There is also the option of downloading detailed research reports as PDF files.

Additional information on the new release is available at www.telekursid.com, in our customer magazine realtime, and in our product brochures on Telekurs iD.
